

RIPLEY MIRROR

Geometric design and minimalist styling give this simple, chic mirror modern sophistication. A frameless, irregular hexagon is suspended from an antique brass mounting hook by a strap of black leather. The plain glass mirror is mounted on a thick antique brass base, so it is raised about 2 inches from the wall, casting a slight shadow and adding dimension to a wall space. The narrow profile works well in a dressing room or powder room and looks extra-sleek when hung in a series.
